Synopsis

In the heart of a bustling city hospital, where life and death intertwine, unfolds the gripping medical romance and drama of Coma. At the forefront of this intense world stands Dr. Alex Walker, a brilliant young neurosurgeon whose life takes an unexpected turn when she falls into a coma after a tragic car accident. As Alex lies unconscious, her colleagues and loved ones are left to grapple with the uncertainty of her fate and the secrets that lie hidden within the hospital's walls.

Dr. Ethan James, a renowned neurologist and Alex's mentor, is determined to find a way to bring her back. Driven by a mix of professional obligation and deep affection, Ethan assembles a team of skilled surgeons and compassionate nurses who work tirelessly to unravel the mystery surrounding Alex's condition and find a way to awaken her from her coma.

As the medical team navigates the complexities of Alex's case, they encounter a web of personal relationships that both support and hinder their efforts. There's Dr. Emily Carter, a brilliant but ambitious resident who harbors a secret crush on Ethan, and Dr. Mark Wilson, a jaded but highly skilled surgeon who clashes with Ethan over his unconventional methods.

Amidst the medical drama, love and loss intertwine in unexpected ways. Ethan and Emily's forbidden romance blossoms under the pressure of Alex's condition, while Mark's past demons threaten to derail his career and his relationship with his estranged wife.
