

Gerald New Shoes: Nicola Carroll's Journey Towards Inclusivity and Style

In a world often defined by limitations, Nicola Carroll, the founder of Gerald New Shoes, dared to challenge the status quo. Her mission? To create a world where every individual, regardless of their physical abilities, can experience the joy and empowerment of wearing stylish and comfortable footwear.

Nicola's journey began with a profound realization. Growing up with a physical disability herself, she witnessed firsthand the lack of options available to individuals with similar challenges when it came to footwear. The shoes on the market were often ill-fitting, uncomfortable, and far from fashionable.
