Pascal was a beautiful horse with a long, flowing mane and tail. He was also very wise and kind. He told Sami and Thomas about his amazing adventures, and they were soon hooked.

Pascal told them about the time he met a unicorn in the Enchanted Forest. He told them about the time he helped a princess find her lost prince. And he told them about the time he saved a village from a band of evil goblins.

Sami and Thomas were so amazed by Pascal's stories that they asked him if they could join him on his adventures. Pascal agreed, and the three of them set off on a magical journey.

They traveled through forests and mountains, over rivers and streams. They met all sorts of interesting people and animals along the way. And they had many exciting adventures.

One day, they came to a castle that was under attack by a dragon. Pascal, Sami, and Thomas bravely fought the dragon and saved the castle.

The king and queen of the castle were so grateful to Pascal, Sami, and Thomas that they invited them to stay as long as they wanted. They lived in the castle for many years, and they had many more adventures.

But eventually, it was time for Pascal, Sami, and Thomas to return home. They said goodbye to their new friends and set off on their journey back to the forest.

When they got home, they told their friends and family all about their amazing adventures. Everyone was so happy for them, and they all lived happily ever after.

The end.

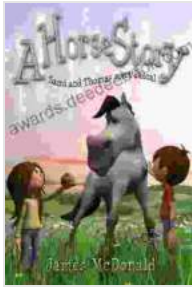

Moral of the story:

Never give up on your dreams. No matter how crazy or impossible they may seem, if you believe in yourself, you can achieve anything.
